

Vicar's Whore

VW 19

Frýdek-Místek, 03 June 2009

The May 2009 meeting of Vicar's Whore saw Simona acquit herself quite well in the role of VW menu manager. So well, in fact, that she was promoted to venue manager in the absence of Petr, who had to attend to other business that night. Radana was also away rediscovering her roots in some pre-industrial hell. We look forward to hearing all about it. The evening was mostly devoted to reading from SC, with the girls taking turns as Sally and Mrs. Carter. James had a go at the preacher and found his stride after a few asides. Geoff and Darren got up and acted out the new scene involving Carter and Swayze on the battlefield. It was strange listening to all that talk about hunger and cannibalism with the menu manager sitting there. Martina has offered the group use of her backyard for the next meeting, scheduled for July 6, and there we will play out the battlefield scene again, this time, we hope, with gun and squirrel to give it a realistic effect. Some musicians will come to help us practice singing our Civil War songs, over a fire naturally, complete with those big fat plastic sausages known as špekáčky. See the menu manager for more details. In the meantime, several of us are planning to go to a theater performance at Petr Bezruč staged by some acquaintances of Martina. Let her know if you would like to attend as well. I think you do, because there's no better way to learn than by watching others do it. The only excuse for not going is having a baby and Karin can always be late. Other tasks to manage are costume shots for our web page. We will use one frilly dress and hat for the ladies, and one uniform, probably late Austro-Hungarian imperial mercenary given our location, for the men.

Geoff will start preparing new designs for the web page and Darren will set up the studio for recording the audio CD. It might be better if native speakers do each of the roles so the others can work on clear pronunciation. It can also help James effect an accent like Dr. House who, after all, could easily pass for the preacher's brother.
